I have no rule of life that when death comes, I might face it without fear.—Henry Havelock.

The automobile club of France has offered a prize of $5000 for a new fuel that will be cheaper than gasoline and give as good results.

The Maine Brigade of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, has 1400 members. Instead of half that number as stated in this paper a few issues ago. Arrangements are being made for the annual field day, which will be held in Bangor, June 16-17.

The building program of the Navy for the year 1911 will call for two battleships of the most advanced dreadnaught type, also five destroyers or one modern repair ship for the fleet, notwithstanding that a $10,000,000 decrease is to be made in the naval estimates by order of President Taft.

As a part of the ceremonies incident to the presentation of the gold medals of the Aero Club of America to the Wright brothers by President Taft, June 19 in the East room of the White House the aviators will undoubtedly give a public demonstration of flight. Efforts are now being made to have them fly over the Ellipse, the name given to a large area of parking directly south of the White House. President Taft and members of his household are very eager to see the Wrights fly and if they could be induced to do so there is nothing to prevent them from flying in their aeroplane from Fort Myer to the White House lot, a distance in a straight line of two miles and a half.

A reader of the Philadelphia Record wanted information as to the number of pensioners and the amounts paid out by the government in monies in that department. The facts and figures are interesting. Thousands of Civil War veterans die every year, but the pension roll of 1908 contained only 14,325 fewer names than that of 1893. Of course, the Spanish War added a good many names to the rolls, but in the last fiscal year almost 11,000 pensions were granted on account of the Civil War. The expenditures for pensions in 1896 were less than $10,000,000; in 1900 they slightly exceeded $142,000,000. The appropriation for 1910 is about $161,000,000. In 1905 the average payment per pensioner was $129.96; three years later it had risen to $167.50. The aggregate disbursements in pensions thus far have been $3,500,000,000.

Frank E. Holding, violinist, of Lewiston, will go to Kineo, the first of July, where he will lead the hotel orchestra. His season there will close about the middle of September and he will return home and immediately make arrangements to sail for Europe, where he will spend two years studying with the foremost instructors. He expects to sail by the middle of October and will probably go directly to London, where he will study with Fritz Kreisler, one of the four greatest violinists in the world. Later he will study with other famous artists, spending sometime probably in Paris. Upon his return to America his plan is to devote his entire time to concert work. Mr. Holding, who is well known in Rockland, is Maine's foremost violinist and ranks high in the list of New England musicians. For seven years he has been the youngest member of the Maine Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Prof. W. R. Chapman. Two years ago, he spent a year in Europe, studying in Prague, Austria, with Prof. Ottokar Sovick, who has taught some of the greatest violin artists now living.

This Week

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A review from the columns of this paper of some of the events which interested Rockland and vicinity for the month ending May 27, 1884.

Mrs. E. S. Crandon was badly bitten by a dog while walking on the old Thomaston road.

The high school cadets made a fine impression upon their visit to Bath. A. H. Blackington bought the Erastus Blackington farm at the Meadows. Sch. Commerce, Capt. Nash, was struck twice by lightning on her voyage from New York to Portland. Several of the crew were injured.

Achorn & Wiggin dissolved partnership. M. A. Achorn continued the business and Mrs. Wiggin entered Simonson's dry goods store.

Ulmer & Labe, painters, dissolved partnership.

George W. Hicks was elected city liquor agent for a third term.

The Oak Hill Dramatic Club at the Meadows disbanded, the members dividing the $56 in the treasury.

The Blackington quarry at the Meadows was supplying five kilns with rock.

Weston W. Dow left for Kansas to reside on a farm.

C. E. Meservy of Appleton, a Colby graduate, was studying law with Rice & Hall.

Clifford T. Pillsbury, graduating from Commercial College, went to New York, where he had a position in a ship-chandler's office.

The officers elected by the Juvenile Temple were: Harry Mather, Abbie Vose, Ralph Loring, Abbie Paine, Elias Burroughs, Della Kelley, Della Bean, Charles Sweetland, Cora Frost, Percy Staples, Arthur Ware, Joseph Hassen, Linnie Gupill and Myra Skinner.

The Methodist church elected the following trustees: E. H. Cochran, Stephen Gould, M. L. Simmons, Andrew Ulmer, Aaron Howes, N. A. Burpee, G. L. Farrand, John Crie and V. O. Hewett. The stewards were E. H. Cochran, John Crie, J. W. Hill, G. L. Farrand, J. F. Hall, L. S. Robinson, A. D. Pottle and J. C. Barber.

Steamer City of Portland, of the International Steamship Co., bound from Boston and Portland for St. John, N. B., was wrecked on Northwest ledge, Muskeg Channel, May 7. She had on board 75 passengers and a crew numbering about 65. The wreck was sighted from Owl's Head and Capt. Wallace in a small sloop rescued some of the passengers, but the bulk of them, together with the crew, were brought to Rockland on the steamer Rockland, Capt. William Sawtelle. Capt. David Larcum, commander of the ill-fated craft, was also rescued.

Two daughters of a Thomaston man, aged 11 and 14, weighed 163 and 179 respectively. Each had five fingers and six toes. They were taken to a Boston museum.

The union Sabbath school at Cushing organized with A. R. Rivers chairman, J. Dana Payson superintendent, S. D. Hunt assistant, A. R. Rivers secretary, Vinal Wallace treasurer and Alice Bradford librarian.

E. M. Wood had been in continuous service as agent for the B. & B. S. C. at Camden 40 years.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Old-fashioned poetry, but choicely good.—Jesse Watson

Six O'clock
The tune and tramp of hurrying feet,
The feeble flicker of smoke-dimmed stars,
The clatter and clang of cabs and cars,
A splash of blood from the dying sun,
Life with its duties alighted or done,
A battle lost or a battle won,
And people hurrying home.

Six o'clock by the forge grown cold,
By the steel cone chill and the half reared spire,
By the halted column and half reared spire,
The dying blaze of the dampened fire;
Six o'clock by the lines grown deep
In the soldier's brow; by the shades that creep,<
To the crest of day from the caves of sleep,
And people hurrying home.

Six o'clock and a mantle spread
By the snowy flakes for the day now dead;
Six o'clock by the dreams and doze,
By the laugh that leaps and the heart that bleeds;
Six o'clock by the lights that shine
In a distant window—yours or mine,
By the emptied glass or the bubbling wine,
And people hurrying home.

Six o'clock and the tangled web
Of the day by snarled, but the folk tide ebb,
From the pebbled shore to the sea out there,
And the beach of the street lies black and bare;
Six o'clock and the great pilot there
Close shut, like prison cells for Care,
Whose hollow eyes through grating stare,
And people hurrying home.

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

MONDAY, MAY 31

As this day will generally be observed as Memorial Day throughout the Nation, the citizens of Rockland will this year, as in the past, and their tribute of respect to the memory of our soldiers and sailors, who by their valor on land and sea, have made the annals of our City and our State most glorious.

Now, therefore, I, Albert C. McLoon, Mayor of Rockland, hereby order that labor be suspended on this day in all departments of the City, that the flags on the City Building, School and Engine Houses be displayed at half-mast, from 8 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m., and all the citizens are requested to close their places of business at 12 m. for the rest of the day, and join with the Grand Army of the Republic in the services of the day.

Given at Rockland, Maine, this 25 day of May, A. D. 1909.

A. C. McLOON, Mayor.

Here is Memorial Day again. It is the day of the veterans of the Grand Army and we are of those who believe that it should be theirs alone—theirs to observe in the decoration of the graves of fallen comrades and the holding of meetings in memory of the days in which they were active participants in a gigantic war. In Rockland the anniversary has always been faithfully recognized since its installation nearly forty years ago. This is because there continues to abide with our citizens the loyal memory of the momentous days of struggle; and likewise because there continues here the staunch organization of soldiers and sailors, whose ranks it is true are thinning and who march with not so alert a step, but who remain loyal to the things they fought for and keep green the memories of their comrades fallen from the ranks. Let us fly our flags on Monday, and perceiving the veterans in line, salute them for what they were and for what they stand for now.

Down amid the silent multitude the marching thousands come. To the beat, beat, beat of a thousand loyal feet. And the rumble and the grumble of a caisson and a gun. At the head a tattered banner proudly in the air. Behind it by one old veteran with silver grizzled hair. Keeping time with martial feet down the bunting-laden street. To the hum and the thrum of the drum of '61.

Now the peaceful pageant passes, and the picture of the fray. Like the deadly strife of yesterday, forever fades away. Peace with gentle hand smooths down the Blue and the Gray. For the quarrel has long ended and the Blue and Gray are one. On the grave of a friend and foe we leave the blossoms spread— Loyal friend and gallant enemy, now comrades with the dead.

Hark! the tramp of solemn feet dies away as down the street the thrum of the drum of '61. It is a matter of regret that the revolving door at the postoffice should be such an object of hostility that it gets badly ill-treated. During the past week one of its curved plate glass windows has been broken, as a result presumably of pure maliciousness on the part of somebody unknown. The door is a handsome piece of furniture and adds something to the good looks of Rockland's fine federal building. Its installation is in line with modern progress. A visit to other communities of the progressive sort will disclose these doors in use in all modern buildings. Some of the patrons of the postoffice find fault with the door—but a far larger number found the old doors cumbersome. The revolving door properly used comes pretty close to perfection. No more than one person should get into one of its compartments at the same time; then keep to the right. Only those who refuse to obey these simple rules meet with annoyance. We think public-spirited citizens might profitably assist those in charge of the building, by deprecating the misuse of the door and reporting malicious treatment of it.

When a national holiday falls on Sunday there is always a deal of speculation as to whether it will be celebrated on the Saturday preceding or the Monday following. The matter has been settled so far as the federal government is concerned. President Taft has issued an executive order directing that when national holidays fall on Sunday, all government employees entitled to a holiday shall be granted leave on the Monday following. The order applies everywhere, excepting in such states wherein the state laws provide for celebrations on the Saturday preceding holidays falling on Sunday. In the latter cases the government employees will be granted leave on Saturday.

The Courier-Gazette begins today the printing of a series of music plates that we believe will delight all our musically inclined patrons. The selections will be of both vocal and instrumental, of the classical and popular varieties, but none of it too classical and none commonplace. Indeed nothing worthier in this direction has been undertaken in newspaper publication. We expect to hear much favorable comment from it. The music will appear weekly for a considerable time, unless we should find that it is not desired.

A Boston friend sends The Courier-Gazette one of the little round cards issued by the American Telephone Co. It reads: "The telephone pledge: I believe in the golden rule and will try to be as courteous and considerate over the telephone as if face to face. Admirable! Let us all hang those cards about the mouthpiece of our telephones, where we can read the legend every time we have any talking to do, and then live up to it."

Two elephants in the New York Zoo became very angry at the sight of an unusually large and well decorated peach basket hat. Don't see why they should get mad; they didn't have to pay for it—Portland Express.

They probably saw at a glance that the hat exceeded the capacity of both their trunks.

EASTERN STAR CONVENTION.

Miss Edith Lefest of Thomaston Was Elected Associate Grand Matron

The Grand Chapter of Maine, Order of the Eastern Star, was held in Lewiston Tuesday and Wednesday. Golden Rod Chapter was represented by its Worthy Matron, Mrs. Alma B. Moulton, Past Matrons Mrs. Nellie G. Dow, Mrs. Hester M. Chase and Mrs. Bertha E. Meservey, Past Patron C. E. Meservey, and Mrs. Ira J. Shuman. The business sessions were held in Masonic hall and were largely attended most of the subordinate chapters in the state being represented. The work of the order was exemplified by the officers of Mt. Olive Chapter of Lewiston, Tuesday evening, in Kora Temple building, following which a reception was tendered the Grand Chapter by Mt. Olive Chapter. It was estimated that a thousand members of the order were present. Mrs. Ella S. Washburn, Racine, Wis., Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of the United States and Mrs. Lualine J. Pitkin of Chicago, Right Worthy Grand Secretary, were present, also several Past Grand Matrons from Massachusetts including the Grand Secretary and Mrs. Krohn of San Francisco, Past Grand Matron of California.

The session throughout was a very pleasant one and the utmost harmony prevailed. Mrs. Cora L. Putnam, Houlton, was elected Grand Matron and Miss Edith M. Lefest of Thomaston was elected Associate Grand Matron. The returns showed that there were over 15,000 members in this state. Chapters were granted for three new chapters.

The meeting next year will be held in Portland.

AGAIN SEEKS PARDON

Samuel Haynes, Undismissed By Five Failures Still Trying for Freedom.

A petition for the pardon of Samuel D. Haynes, who has been an inmate of the state prison at Thomaston for nearly 30 years, having been sentenced for life, for murder, is on its way to the executive department, and will probably be thrashed out at the June meeting of the Governor and council.

This will be the sixth time that Haynes has applied for executive clemency and it is understood that new evidence of some nature will be presented at the June meeting in behalf of Haynes. The Hon. Walter B. Clarke of Portland, a former member of the State Senate, is the counsel for Haynes.

Haynes was confined in 1880 of the murder of James L. Robbins, a Rockland policeman, in the lock-up in this city in 1879. Haynes was being detained in the station house for larceny and the policeman's back was turned, hit him over the head with a stove poker. Haynes has always contended that he did not intend to kill the policeman, but just wanted to stun him so that he could make his escape.

The petitioners claim that Haynes has explained his crime and that he should have been convicted only of manslaughter, the maximum penalty for which at the time was life in the state prison.

The money with which to make the fight for Haynes' freedom is being furnished by his brother-in-law, Col. S. B. Rogers of Detroit, Mich., a wealthy broker.

SELECTING CLAM GARDENS

Yarmouth One Place Where Commissioner Donohue Will Experiment—Nova Scotia Lobstermen in Hard Luck.

Fish Commissioner Donohue states that while the appropriation for clam cultivation is not available until July 1st, the department is already outlining its plans. The bivalve gardens will be distributed impartially among the coastal counties, with the exception of Washington, where the supply has not been materially changed save in certain spots, which will be replenished.

Representative Davis of Yarmouth has been notified that the department wished to secure planting privileges there. In this connection the Portland Express says: "On the last Legislature Representative Oliver Bowley of Swan's Island, an expert from Damariscotta and Representative Davis of Yarmouth gathered what information they could in regard to the practicability of clam propagation through the use of white clam, submitted their findings to the commissioner of sea and shore fisheries, James Donohue of Rockland. Mr. Donohue gave the proposition his sanction and support, and during the session the state appropriated $4,000 for the purpose. This appropriation does not become available until after July 2, but ever since the Legislature passed its act, a quiet search has been in progress to find a place where the experiment can best be carried on."

"Yarmouth was finally decided upon because of its sandy and gravelly soil, and because through its peculiar character of licensing it will be possible for the authorities to keep a close watch upon the clam diggers and prevent the raiding of the beds. So far as is known no accurate information has been gathered as to how many men are engaged in digging clams for the market or how many hard earned dollars find their way into the pockets of the lobstermen because of the industry, but conservative estimates place it at a million or more."

Practically the whole lobster industry of the southern shore of Nova Scotia was ruined by the gale that swept the coast Tuesday. All along the shore are sunken boats while smashed lobster traps dot the coast line. An immense amount of hardship will be entailed on the men who make their living from this industry for in many cases, all that many of them had was invested in their outfit. Their work for the whole season has been undone. At the height of the gale there was a tidal wave that swept boats up on the wharves and flooded many buildings.

Maine Central Is Adopting the Double-Bladed Semaphore System.

The single arm semaphore system in operation upon a part of the Maine Central railroad will be replaced without delay by the more modern two-bladed system.

The two bladed pattern is known to possess a greater amount of merit than the one bladed system. Under the rule of the one bladed system, if it was set against a train, the train was forced to come to a stop and wait until it had been readjusted through the working of the automatic arrangement. Much needless delay was encountered in waiting for the change but with the two bladed system in operation the delay is obviated unless it is absolutely necessary for the train to come to a stop.

One of the blades when placed in position signifies that the train must come to an immediate stop if another train is occupying the "block," which is a section of track. If, however, the train has safely passed over that section within a specified number of minutes, the other blade is automatically arranged to denote that the following train shall proceed with caution. This is known as the "cautionary" signal and by its use much unnecessary delay has been done away with. The passengers in the trains are fully protected in every way.

"None."

"Did your wife have any?"

"She received some money."

The remainder of the examination concerned the question of checks. Capt. Hurley said that he kept none because he had no bank account. No check went to Mr. Farnsworth unless in the form of a check to the Rockland Life Co.

Mrs. Hurley was on the stand in the afternoon, but the examination was very brief, covering much the same ground that had been gone over at the morning session. She testified that the management of her business affairs was left practically in the hands of her husband. In addition to corroborating the evidence given by him, she produced checks to the amount of about $100 which had been given by her to Mr. Farnsworth on the mortgage account and duly cashed by him.

Just what the next step in this matter will be is not easy to prophesy. Judge Payson, before whom the testimony was being taken, called upon to make a decision. It is intimated that the foreclosure of the mortgage given to secure the notes will furnish the next chapter of the drama. Mr. Herbert M. Heath of Augusta appears for the complainant, with L. F. Stettin of this city as associate counsel. The Hurleys are represented by A. S. Littlefield.

MEETING FARNSWORTH NOTES

Capt. and Mrs. W. P. Hurley Tell in Probate Court How They Were Able to Meet Obligations Amounting to $26,000

The whereabouts of five promissory notes aggregating $22,000, given by Frances E. Hurley to the late James R. Farnsworth, was the information sought by Miss Lucy C. Farnsworth, administratrix and heir-at-law, in a proceeding of discovery in Probate Court Thursday.

The complaint sets forth that Lucy C. Farnsworth "has good reason to suspect and does suspect, that Frances E. Hurley has concealed, embzzled, or conveyed away, or aided others in so doing" certain properties belonging to the estate of the late James R. Farnsworth. The properties mentioned are five promissory notes given by Frances E. Hurley, as follows: James R. Farnsworth, a note for $1500, dated July 26, 1894, payable in one year, with interest at 7 percent; to Frank W. Colburn, or order, a note for $2000, dated June 12, 1897, payable in one year, with interest at 8 percent; to James R. Farnsworth, a note for $12,000, dated July 13, 1899, payable in four years, with interest at 7 percent; to James R. Farnsworth, a note for $5,652.55, dated Nov. 1, 1900, payable in two years, with interest at 7 percent.

The forenoon session was devoted to the testimony of Capt. William P., husband of Frances E. Hurley. He told of the circumstances attending the opening of the safe in Farnsworth block, which, he said was done at Miss Farnsworth's request. The local agent who had sold the safe was unable to furnish assistance in opening but the Boston firm from which it was obtained gave him some keywords to experiment with, and by means of these the safe was opened after a half hour's work.

Capt. Hurley told how the notes had been paid little by little, but he had taken no receipt for the payments, having implicit confidence in Mr. Farnsworth. The hearing was adjourned during the forenoon session to give the time for the examination of the memorandum of the account, computed by Mr. Farnsworth and in his own handwriting. This he was able to present to the court. It indicated that Mr. Farnsworth had received cash on account of notes and interest to the amount of $26,750.

Capt. Hurley claims that he made in January, 1904, what he supposed to be a cash payment of $26,750, which was credited with $884 for labor. Later Mr. Farnsworth had informed him that an error had been made in the computation and that Mrs. Hurley still owed the balance of $26,000. A note for that amount was given.

The examination of Capt. Hurley was conducted by Hon. Herbert M. Heath, and was of a very searching and pertinent character.

"If, as you claim, you paid in $21,866 during 3 1-2 years," said Mr. Heath, "where did the money come from?"

"From the sale of lime," replied Capt. Hurley.

"How much of a plant did you have?" "I operated one kiln, and quarried the rock from my own land."

"From Oct. 1899 to Oct. 18, 1902, how much lime did you burn?"

"We burned 63,738 barrels."

"What were the total receipts?" "They were $48,783.14."

"What profit did you receive?" "I want to receive a fair profit."

"Ten cents on a barrel was considered a fair cash profit."

"What was the actual cost of lime that sold at 65 cents per sack?"

"About 10 cents. We figured five cents for stumpage, five cents for kiln rent and 15 cents for wood, but this was not an actual cash outlay with us as we owned the whole plant. In addition to this we had a large quantity of goods worth from $300 to $400, including groceries, provisions, paint, etc."

"What was the annual volume of your store sales?"

"From $200 to $10,000, I suppose."

"What was a fair profit?"

"From 20 to 25 per cent."

"What other sources of income did you have?"

"None."

"Did your wife have any?"

"She received some money."

The remainder of the examination concerned the question of checks. Capt. Hurley said that he kept none because he had no bank account. No check went to Mr. Farnsworth unless in the form of a check to the Rockland Life Co.

Mrs. Hurley was on the stand in the afternoon, but the examination was very brief, covering much the same ground that had been gone over at the morning session. AT NEW MEADOWS INN.

Important Matters to be Decided at D. A. R. State Field Day.

The state field day of the D. A. R. July 17th will call out a large number of "Daughters" at New Meadows Inn, not alone because of the popularity of the place but because at that time the question of state rules will come up and the voting body will be determined.

Miss Coburn, the newly elected state regent, was made chairman of a committee on revision and its report has been sent to the different chapters for their consideration. She states that it has the approval of every member of the committee. The changes are very radical for it gives voting power to every member who attends, on all questions excepting those of the election of state regent and state vice-regent and the election of those officers are fixed by the terms of the national constitution.

If no delegated power is permitted then the chapters will not be given representation excepting through delegates and the regent or someone representing her, and the votes would be carried according to the personnel and opinions of those in the locality where the annual meeting is held.

Obituary.

MRS. MARY HALL.

Mrs. widow of Walter S. Hall, died suddenly in a Boston hospital Monday.

The remains were brought to her home in this city Thursday morning accompanied by her only son, Walter S. Hall, and her son-in-law, Bert West.

Mrs. Hall was gradually recovering from a serious illness when cardiac thrombosis set in causing such an immediate change in her condition that she died before the absent relatives could reach the bedside. Deceased was born Feb. 20, 1843, daughter of the late Isaac and Meriel (Ingram) Gregory. The early years of her married life were spent in the house which she owned on Middle street, now the property of Charles F. Spear. Some years ago the family moved to East Boston, and she resided at 53 Monmouth street. The marked characteristics of the deceased was extreme generosity. She was very kind to those in need or distress, and in an unobtrusive way constantly sought new opportunities to lighten the burden of some less fortunate person. Her memory is forever endeared to those who have been recipients of her kindness or who were brought within the inspiring circle of her acquaintance. She is survived by the son already mentioned, and one daughter, Mrs. E. W. West of Island Creek, Mass. There are also four surviving grandchildren. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the residence of her cousin, Mrs. C. A. Crocker, Day officiating. Many former neighbors and friends attended. The interment was at Achorn cemetery.

MRS. MARY C. CARVER.

Many persons were shocked Tuesday to learn of the death of Mary Catherine, widow of the late Col. L. D. Carver, who was found dead in bed at her home on Pleasant street that morning. She had been apparently in her usual good health, but the morning she died she was industriously working in the flower garden, where she was wont to find her happiest diversion. That night before retiring she spoke of being fatigued and weary, but the morning she did not respond when her daughter entered her room, and not wishing to disturb her slumber, Mrs. Austin did not return the call. Surprised at the unusual length of sleep Mrs. Austin returned to her mother's apartments which adjoined some time later and found that she had passed peacefully away.

Mrs. Carver was in her 83d year. She was born at the West Meadows and her parents were Preserved and Betsy (Long) Willis. Her father was a line inspector here for a number of years. She was married in 1847 to Lorenzo D. Carver, a well known citizen of this city. Two children were the result of that union. The son, M. W. Carver, died in 1894. The daughter, Mrs. Maynard S. Austin, survives, and from her Mrs. Carver received the tender and devoted care as old age crept on. Another surviving member of the family is the granddaughter, Mrs. C. M. Vidito of Nova Scotia. Mrs. Carver was a member of the Lybbey Relief Corps and the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Old in years, she remained young in spirit, cherishing the presence of young people and favoring them all with the same smile which was such a marked feature of her delightful personality. Her demise marks the end of a long life, which has been blessed by many acts of kindness and usefulness to the community on the part of her family and friends.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, Rev. B. P. Judd officiating. There was a very large attendance, the Rev. Mr. Judd reading the service, especially well represented. The floral tributes were many, and of exceeding beauty. The pall-bearers were selected from Edwin Libby Post, G. A. R., as follows: Rev. Mr. Judd, Capt. E. A. Butler, J. E. Rhodes and C. C. Cross. The interment was at Sea View cemetery.

CAPT. CHANDLER E. PECK.

This community was saddened and shocked, on Wednesday, by the news of the sudden death of Capt. Chandler E. Peck, 17 Grove street, who occurred the previous night on board steamer Yale, en route from New York for Boston, on his way home. The death was conveyed by a telegram from Mr. George A. Tupper, who was with Capt. Peck on the Yale, and telegraphed as soon as possible, after his arrival at Boston. A. R. Stettin, news has been received by the family as to the circumstances of his death. The remains arrived on the boat Boston Thursday morning, but Mr. Tupper, who was expected, did not arrive until late in the afternoon, but will no doubt be here Thursday and give the particulars. The death, however, was certainly very sudden and unexpected. Capt. Peck arrived from New York on the morning of the 26th, on his vessel, schooner J. Manchester Haynes, from Charleston, S. C., with a cargo of lumber. He wrote to his family that he was ill of pleurisy and was expected to be in New York where he was under medical treatment at a hospital. He wrote several letters home while he was in New York and represented himself as being in a slight one, but his family gained the impression that it was more serious than he thought best to tell them, and had reason to fear that his lungs were affected. However, no immediate danger was apprehended, and in his last letter Capt. Peck said that he was much better and would come home, and that they might expect him in the morning. Mr. Tupper, a relative, arrived at Providence on the 27th, and accompanied him to New York and remained with him, accompanying him on the Yale Tuesday night.

The remains have been taken to the undertaking rooms of N. A. & S. H. Burpee, where they will be prepared for burial and then removed to the family residence, where the funeral will be held on Saturday, probably in the afternoon, though the Rev. B. P. Judd, pastor of Pratt Memorial Methodist church, is expected to officiate. The interment will be at the Achorn cemetery.

Capt. Peck was one of our most capable and successful master mariners, and was unusually respected and esteemed. He was a man of kind heart and genial disposition, and made friends everywhere he went. He was widely known in shipping circles in all the principal ports of the Atlantic coast of this country and the islands of the group embraced in the coasting trade, in which his whole life was spent. He made remarkably good voyages.

He was born in Hopewell, New Brunswick, June 4, 1847, so that he was nearly 62 years of age. His parents, William and Ruth (Rogers) Peck, removed to this city when he was a small boy, and he was brought up here and educated in our schools. He began to go to sea when quite young, and, by his ability and quickness to learn, soon rose to the position of captain, and commanded many vessels, mostly large and good ones. A partial list of them, but not in the order in which he sailed in them, is as follows: Schooners Idaho, Augusta, J. Fabian, D. H. Rivers, (four-master), Nellie T. Morse, William W. Converse, Laura M. Lunt. The last named vessel, 507 tons, was built for him in this city in 1890 by Mr. George A. Gilchrist. For the past two years, he has commanded the schooner E. B. Rochester Haynes, 795 tons, of Boston.

In March, 1874, Capt. Peck was married to Augusta, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howard, who survives him. Mrs. Peck had been in poor health for a number of years, and is completely prostrated by the painful and unexpected bereavement. They had four children, two of whom, a boy and a girl, died in early childhood. Two daughters survive, Misses Lucy M. and Emma L. Peck, both of whom are at home. Two cousins also survive, Mrs. Mosess, wife of Rev. Mr. Peck of Brunswick, Ga., and George A. Tupper, of this city, besides a number of distant relatives in New Brunswick, and those connected by marriage.

Capt. Peck was a member of Rockland lodge, F. & A. M., and Knox lodge, I. O. O. F.

The time of the funeral has since been fixed at 2 p. m., Saturday—From the Opinion.

Not enough members of the Knox County Automobile Club were present Tuesday night, so the annual meeting was postponed to June 8.

Capt. Stanley of the steamer Monhegan has lately moved here from Stonington and occupies the new Tapley double tenement on Clarendon street.

The city has received five bids for furnishing the city with 30 fire extinguishers for the school houses. Owing to the complex nature of these bids no decision has been reached.

The dance given by the Silent Brothers in Pillsbury hall Wednesday evening was the 53d held under that management in the past two years. In all that time, marvelous to relate, it has never been necessary to postpone but once on account of stormy weather. One week from next Wednesday night there will be another dance in the same hall, this time under the management of the Odd Fellows Social Club.

Farwell opera house was crowded to the doors Wednesday evening, and there was also a large attendance in the afternoon, the occasion being the moving picture benefit performance, with the Universalist church sharing half of the gross receipts. The church will add about $10 to its treasury as the result of the committee's activity in ticket selling and the attractive program offered by Manager Eugley.

Esten W. Porter, formerly of this city, has just been elected president of the Dyker Heights Country Club in Brooklyn, an organization in which he has been an active and prominent member since removing to New York. The club has 123 members and is one of the leading organizations of its kind in New York state. One hundred members with guests and ladies were present at the vaudeville smoker given by the new administration at a fancy night ago. Mr. Porter is to be congratulated upon the honor, but we venture to say that it is the Club itself which fares better by his election.

"The Great Laymen's Convention" recently held at Portland was the subject of the Y. M. C. A. meeting next Sunday afternoon. This convention was the most important gathering of Christian workers ever held in the state, and it is a pleasure to have some of the most noted men in the country. The speakers at the meeting Sunday will be the delegates to the convention from this city and will include W. B. Fuller, John E. E. M. Smith, Stubbins, Clarence S. Beveridge and Chas. H. Morey. The singing will be enthusiastic as well as pleasing, and will be in charge of Otha Hatch.

There has been erected in the southwest corner of the postoffice corridors a dome ceiling electrical fixture. The passageway there is low, making a dark corner particularly inviting to stragglers. The efficient lighting fixture is marked needed improvement.

The mail box hitherto standing in the driveway east of the postoffice got knocked over the other day and has been retired from service. Formerly this box was intended to convenience patrons who might have letters to deposit at night after the office is closed, but since an opening was made in the east door for the reception of mail the box has not been needed and its removal will not be noticed, except that the driveway looks better without it.

"They Lace In Front"

Miss Harpole, representing the Gossard Company, will be at our Corset Department the Week beginning Tuesday, June 1st.

WITH THE THEATRES

OPERA HOUSE VAUDEVILLE.
This Saturday night will close the present season of pictures and vaudeville at Farwell opera house, and as usual one of the largest houses of the season will be the rule, as every playgoer always plans to attend the closing attraction. The big bill for the closing is a fine one, headed by the well known vaudeville stars Al Postell and Florence Emmett in their laughable musical comedy skit, "The Misfit Dutchman." To finish their act they give a novel act introducing a yodeling and play. They play their own accompaniment on the English concertina and the Spanish mandolin, one of the best things seen at the Farwell this season.

POSTELL AND EMMETT.
Manager Engley is offering for the closing vaudeville and picture attraction of the season at Farwell opera house this Saturday night one of the best bills yet offered, headed by Al Postell, America's greatest German dialect comedian, and Florence Emmett, the sweet singer and character artist, in their laughable comedy skit, "The Misfit Dutchman," in which is introduced yodeling, English concertina and Spanish mandolin playing. There is also a special line of pictures, secured for the closing attraction, which are among the best ever shown in the city and will be seen at the Farwell only. Don't fail to see the greatest of all programs at the Farwell tonight and the last one of the season.

NORTH WARREN

Quite a number from this place attended the dance at the village Thursday evening, May 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gordon, Mrs. Emeline Studley and Leslie Studley were at D. W. Merry's Sunday.

Walter Powers was in Friendship Friday.

Mrs. Fuller and daughter Lucy of Rockland are the guests of Miss Mabel and Laura Fuller.

GLENCOVE

J. N. Farnham of Rockland, had charge of the services at the school house Sunday afternoon.

The roll call of Penobscot View Grange last Thursday evening, was a success, 73 out of 132 members being present and three others responded by letter. Miss Victoria Combs rendered a vocal solo and Frank B. Miller delivered an address, which was followed by remarks by Fred W. Andrews along the lines of the address. The officers were supplied with roses and the members with pinkies by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Billings, for which they were given a vote of thanks by the grange.

It was voted 54 to 2 to favor a division of Knox Pomona grange into two Pomonas. The following served as officers, performing their duties gracefully and ably: Master, Mrs. Lena Bowers; overseer, Mrs. Hattie A. Baker; lecturer, Mrs. Inez Strong; steward, Mrs. Lavina Henderson; assistant steward, Miss Theresa Shibley; gatekeeper, Miss Hazel Stevens; secretary, Miss Olive J. Maguire; chaplain, Mrs. Elizabeth Ingraham; Coros, Mrs. Louise S. Ingraham; Pomona, Miss Nellie Mullen; Flora, Mrs. Lucy A. Keep; lady assistant steward, Miss Victoria Combs. A first class supper was served by Fred E. Leach, Chas. A. Sylvester, Herbert N. Brazier, Harry H. Humphrey, Fay H. Strong, Lincoln S. Henderson, Orel E. Davies, Nelson J. Hurd and William E. Watson, each of whom wore a neat white coat, with a carnation in the button hole and looked very fine. They served with dexterity and skill and received much praise, but no doubt wished twice the ladies turn when it came to washing dishes.

Herbert W. Keep returned home Saturday after attending the Knights of Pythias meeting in Portland and visiting relatives in that city and Lewis W. Fred E. Leach took his place in the Freight office, Camden, and G. Carl Cassens substituted on the mail car.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Shaw were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Frank H. Ingraham, Sunday.

George Warren Smith arrived Thursday and will spend the summer at his home, Warrenton Park.

Fred E. Leach was at Highland Sunday.

A letter for Mrs. Arthur Young is advertised at the post office.

ALWAYS TIRED

Run-Down, Depressed and "Blue"

How many people do you know who never seem rested? Who always seem tired? They look tired? Their eyes are dull and they have no ambition? They seem to "catch" every ailment that comes along? They are full of aches and pains and complaints? Sleep doesn't seem to rest them, food is not relished? They are miserable, though they can't tell exactly why?

This is not a whim; there is something wrong.

This chronic ill-health is caused by stomach and liver trouble. We believe very few people can be sick if their digestion is in good order. We know that Kickapoo Sagwa, the Indian Vegetable Remedy will cure Stomach and Liver Diseases.

Mr. H. J. Goodwin, 61 Arcade, Providence, R. I., wrote to us September 11, 1906, saying:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend your Kickapoo Sagwa, which has been of such great benefit to me. For years I have been run down and weak, caused by overwork and other trouble. I grew very despondent after trying many remedies without any relief. I was in despair when I started on Sagwa.

"After taking the first bottle I felt immediate relief, and have been taking it since, off and on, as needed. Now I am enjoying the best of health, all owing to Kickapoo Sagwa. I think it is the best remedy in the world. I cannot thank you too much for it, and I recommend it to all those who have suffered as I have. Yours Gratefully."

Another man from Rhode Island, a tea and coffee merchant at Central Falls, Mr. Omar Bodard, wrote October 23rd, 1906, saying that Kickapoo Sagwa "is really marvellous. It is almost too good to be true, but facts are facts, for my wife, having suffered with acute dysentery for nearly twelve years, is, after taking only two bottles of Kickapoo Sagwa, 100 per cent better. She feels better and is better. With gratefulness."

If you wish to test Sagwa before purchasing, we will send you a trial bottle free. The Kickapoo Remedies are for sale at all drug stores. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.

DUTCH NECK

Joseph Gross, of Gross Neck, died at Newport, R. I., May 21, of Bright's disease. Mr. Gross went there a month ago to engage in the fishing business. He was sick about two weeks at the Newport hospital, where his two half-brothers, Amos and Charles, had him taken. They came to Waldoboro with the body and funeral was held from his home at Gross Neck Monday, Rev. Nelson R. Pierson, officiating. Deceased was a man of powerful frame and was 26 years of age. He leaves besides two brothers, a sister, Mrs. Claude L. Miller, an aged mother who was dependent upon him. Mr. Gross was a man of a genial temperament, always smiling, and was consequently very popular with his associates. He was the youngest son of the late Samuel Gross.

Mr. Wm. Cotton is home from Camden where he has been at work in a cotton mill. Ill health has led him to suspend work for a while.

Rev. D. B. Phelan, District Supt. of the Methodist church was here Sunday, holding Quarterly Conference and preaching two of his characteristic sermons.

Mrs. Joseph Creamer of Gross Neck has gone to New Hampshire to visit her daughter, Gertrude, who is very sick.

Samuel O. Wallace, aged 68 years, died Friday at his home at Dutch Neck after an illness of three months. He leaves a widow, one son, one brother, and two sisters. Mr. Wallace was a merchant and farmer. He was exceedingly popular with both young and old.

POTTER IS A GONER.

The batterings of the heavy northeast gale upon the stranded schooner Jennie French Potter, on Half Moon shoal is believed to have damaged her so badly as to preclude further hopes of salvage. It was also believed that the valuable apparatus of the wreckers would be badly damaged, if not lost entirely. The schooner was valued at $70,000, partly insured. She carried a cargo of 3200 tons of coal, all of which was lost shortly after she ran aground on May 18. The wrecking company will seek to rescue her paraphernalia and also to take off all the portable fittings that have not been washed away.

CRUSADE OF IMPROVEMENT.

Rockport Is Taking Steps In Right Direction—Citizens Already at Work.

It really appears that an era of improvement and reform has struck the town of Rockport, and the citizens generally, both men and women, are responding to the call in a most enthusiastic manner.

A meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Monday evening, May 17, some forty or fifty of our leading citizens being present. A permanent organization was formed to be known as the "Rockport Village Improvement Society."

Hon. R. W. Carleton was elected as president for one year and Miss Lida Greenlaw, secretary. An executive committee of six was elected, for the year as follows: A. D. Champney, W. A. Holman, E. A. Morrill, Mrs. Geo. O. Richardson, Miss Carrie Paul and Mrs. A. C. Moore. The committee on by-laws was also appointed, consisting of W. A. Holman, A. D. Champney and Mrs. A. C. Moore.

After an animated and thorough discussion of the need and of the improvements needed in and about the town, the meeting was adjourned to meet again Wednesday evening, June 2, at 8 o'clock, to hear and act on the report of the committee on by-laws and also on any other business that may come before the meeting. Probably no admission fees or dues will be required from the members, but the association will depend on voluntary contributions to carry on the work and defray necessary expenses.

The effect of the call for improvement is already being seen in the disappearance of weeds and rubbish from the streets and in the more careful and orderly manner in which the town is being kept. Measures have been and are being taken to remove once and for all this most objectionable cause of complaint and pride to the town. In many directions, new names are being added to the list of members of the society in rapidly increasing numbers, yet, all persons possessing public spirit and pride in their town are earnestly requested to attend the coming meeting and unite with the pioneers of the movement in carrying on the good work of reform.

It is also proposed to organize the school children into a similar society by themselves, to assist in the crusade of improvement. There is an extensive tract of land in the town, in many directions, not only in clean streets and well kept lawns, but in a moral and spiritual sense as well, especially among the children that are allowed by their parents to roam the streets at all hours of the day and night, learning everything bad and vicious and nothing that is good.

We need and want the assistance of every citizen and man in Rockport. Shall we have it?

Mrs. H. J. Rhodes of Northport returned on Wednesday to her home, having been the guest the past week of her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Young, on Central street.

Mrs. Annie Eldredge passed away at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Tyler, on Pearl street Wednesday morning, after many months of suffering, at the age of 48 years. Some few months ago she was sent to Boston for treatment but only temporary relief was given. Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her mother, Mrs. Tyler, in the employ of F. J. Wiley as coat and vest maker, but owing to ill health had to give up such work. She leaves a son, Albie, and daughter, Ethel, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

Mrs. John Kimball of Jamaica Plain, Mass., arrived on Tuesday, called here for a few days, and will leave for her home on Wednesday.

Mrs. Minnie Dyer of Oakland, Calif., arrived on Wednesday, and will spend the coming summer at her home on Elm street. She was accompanied by a friend.

Mrs. J. R. Prescott of Newton, Mass., arrived Tuesday and is getting her summer property ready for occupancy at "Whitehall."

Mrs. Mary Laubach of New Orleans, La., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKay, for a few weeks.

In Social Circles

Miss Carolyn Alden of Union is visiting her uncle, Frank Alden, at the home of Mrs. Louis Simmons and son have returned from a visit in Waldoboro.

Mrs. John M. Richardson and daughter of Fort Fairfield are guests of Capt. and Mrs. P. G. French.

The Silent Sisters had a luncheon and bridge party at the home of Mrs. Walter H. Spear Monday afternoon. First prize was won by Mrs. C. A. Rose, while poor Annie had to be content with the consolation. The Sisters spent a jolly afternoon.

Sidney Moody and son Harry were guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, Park street.

J. A. Jameson is home from Boston, where he has lately passed through a trying series of surgical operations. His health is much improved.

Another new club has been added to the long list of Rockland clubs—the Tabernacle—the basket makers. The club has 15 members, and holds weekly meetings. The members are busily engaged working out beautiful designs on different-sized baskets and hope to hold an exhibition in the near future.

Last Saturday the club met with president, Mrs. Harry Gurdy, it being the last meeting that Mrs. Chapin could attend. Dainty refreshments were served. Wednesday evening Mrs. Tillinghast delightfully entertained the club in Mrs. Chapin's home. A social hour—an hour of music by Mrs. Tillinghast on the aeolian—Mrs. Chapin was presented with a miniature basket from the club members.

The club had good night to Mrs. Chapin with many good wishes for her future happiness and prosperity.

The First Baptist Choral Association achieved another success Wednesday evening when it appeared in its 19th concert before a good-sized and thoroughly appreciative audience, which would unquestionably have been much larger but for other local attractions with which it was unexpectedly brought into competition. This year the Association depended entirely upon its native talent and the effect was no sense disappointing. Under the direction of Mrs. Ada Mills the large chorus has maintained its high standard of excellence, and the several numbers which it rendered were received with much enthusiasm, especially Fanning's "Liberty." The program:

Chorus, The Gallant Troubadour, Watson Solo, A Song of the Vikings, Mr. Green

Duet, Hunter's Song, Watson Solo, A Song of the Vikings, Mr. Green

Chorus, Recognition of Land, Holden Solo, Villanelle, Miss Kallioch

Chorus, Liberty, Fanning Duet, Like the Lark, Watson Solo, A Song of the Vikings, Mr. Green

Chorus, Song of the Vikings, Fanning Organ and Piano Duo, Overture from Faust, Miss Green

Raymond K. Greene, the first soloist of the evening, was under the handicap of a cold, but his rendition of "A Song of Thanksgiving" was well received. Next came the "Hunter's Song," a pretty duet by Mrs. Mills and Miss Helen Bicknell, sung with excellent appreciation of its merits. Miss Kallioch's solo "Villanelle" brought out the excellent quality of a sweet voice.

"Like a Lark" was the title of a duet, which brought into pleasing prominence two of the Association's youngest singers, Miss Dorothy Bird and Miss Katharine Ingham. Fred Sherman's popularity was increased by the effective rendering of his solo "The North Wind." The male quartet, comprising Osmond Palmer, A. W. W. Ray, Fred Sherman and Fred Sherman sang with pleasing effect two selections, "Reveries" and "Still Waters Run Deep."

The concluding feature of the program, and one which displayed a high order of instrumental talent, was the organ and piano, Overture from "Faust," by Miss Alice Fliske and Miss Faith Greenhalgh. The repeated demand for encore selections, given with heartiness and imperativeness, registered the unquestioned verdict of a delighted audience. Once more the First Baptist Choral Association was to be congratulated upon its happy faculty of being more than equal to the occasion. The snug sum realized from the concert goes into the association's summer outing fund.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Beaton of Waldoboro were guests of A. W. Beaton the first of the week. Mr. Beaton's health has so far recovered that he has resumed the practice of law, taking the office in Waldoboro last occupied by the late O. D. Castner.

Hon. Maynard S. Bird underwent a surgical operation for appendicitis in the Massachusetts Homeopathic hospital Wednesday and is making such excellent progress that he will soon be able to return to his home and business affairs in this city. Mrs. Bird is with him.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Frohock are on a month's trip to Boston and New York. Oliver R. Frohock will be a traveling companion a portion of the time.

Mrs. E. F. Redman and son Frederick have gone to Belgrade, where she joins her husband, who has employment there.

R. D. Swift of Searsport, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dana Crowlton, Willow street, has returned home.

Mrs. E. J. Morey, who has been spending the past six weeks with her mother, Mrs. Celeste B. Wood of Charlestown, Mass., has returned to her home in this city.

Alden M. Cleveland of Hyde Park, Mass., who has many relatives and friends in this vicinity, and some time since officiated as pastor of the Rockport Baptist church, was in this city Tuesday on his wedding tour, which also includes other points in Maine. He married Miss Ruth S. Lambert of North Marshfield, Mass., May 17. He is the son of Alden Cleveland, formerly of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hopkins of Damariscotta, who have been in this city and vicinity for the past two months, returned home Thursday.

Mrs. Elona Farrow of Islesboro, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Manley W. Hart, during the past winter, left for her home Friday.

Mrs. N. W. Messer and son Robert Walcott Messer, arrived Thursday night from Los Angeles, where they have been the past year, and are guests of Mrs. Messer's mother, Mrs. Fannie Thomas, Chestnut street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Norton are on a trip to New York.

Isadore Alperin, who has been in New York and Philadelphia for some weeks past, is home on a short visit. He is now employed as traveling salesman, with headquarters at Portland.

Mrs. Emma Carver of Lowell is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Austin. She came to attend the funeral of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary C. Carver.

LEON ARMSTRONG'S SUICIDE

Belfast Young Man Well Known in This

City, Ends His Life By Hanging.

Leon Armstrong, who resided on the Hall's Corner road, several miles out of Belfast, and who had relatives and many friends in Rockland, committed suicide Monday by hanging himself.

When Mrs. Armstrong and her children returned about six o'clock the elder daughter, eight years old, went to look for her father, and a moment later ran shrieking to the house, crying: "Oh, mamma, papa is hanging in the barn!" Mrs. Armstrong rushed to the barn and found her husband's body. Neighbors were called and took the body to the house.

Armstrong apparently had been dead for several hours. He was about 30 years old, a carpenter, and employed much of the time in Belfast. He was an excellent workman and known to his friends as a fine man in every way.

He married Bertha Newbert about 10 years ago. She returned last week from a short time in Belfast, and was the eldest of eight and the youngest of three. It is said that the domestic affairs have not been happy for some years. Mrs. Armstrong left her home a short time ago. She returned last week, but only to prepare to go away again, it is said. The dead man is the son of A. B. Armstrong, of the Charleston, Mass., police force, and a brother,

Cleveland H. Armstrong, lives in Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Plan for Summer Comfort

Don't add the heat of a kitchen fire to the sufficient discomfort of hot weather.

Use a New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove and cook in comfort.

With a "New Perfection" Oil Stove the preparation of daily meals, or the big weekly "baking," is done without raising the temperature perceptibly above that of any other room in the house. Another great advantage of the is its handsome CABINET TOP, which gives it every convenience of the modern steel range. Has an ample top shelf for warming plates and keeping cooked food hot, drop shelves for holding small cooking utensils, and is even fitted with racks for towels. Made in three sizes, and can be had with or without Cabinet Top. If not at your dealer's address our nearest agency.

BREEDING SALT WATER FISH.

The Steamer Gannett and Its Important Work Along the Maine Coast.

The National Government is doing good work in stocking the waters off the Maine coast, and recently the fish commission steamer Gannett, formerly the palatial steam yacht Carita, owned by the late A. H. Davenport of Boston, took 2,000,000 cod eggs to the hatchery at Boothbay Harbor.

These eggs are placed in the government hatchery and cared for scientifically. When they have developed to a sufficient size to allow of taking care of themselves they are liberated off the coast at different places and allowed to grow. This is the system that has prevailed for a number of years, and has proved to be of great value. While thousands of codfish and other kinds are being brought into port every day the supply in no way diminishes, and each time the trawls are taken in they are found to contain hundreds of the squirming fish.

The government has spent thousands of dollars upon the station at Boothbay Harbor and has succeeded in interesting the fishermen in the work. At one time all the fish in the trawls were taken into port and sold, but after the men became acquainted with the work which was being done by officials of the government they decided to act in harmony with them.

Thereafter whenever a fish was found spawning it was set aside and reserved for the fish commission steamer which visit them at the grounds every time they are in the vicinity. In this way the government has been able to keep the fish from becoming extinct, and it is believed now that there are more fish off the coast than ever before. Had it not been for the government it is extremely probable that a number of the different species would have died out.

It is not an uncommon occurrence for the members of the crew of the Gannett to take on board more than a million eggs in less than half an hour. Recently the Gannett arrived at the station with 1,000,000 eggs, which were delivered to the officials there. The next day 1,000,000 more eggs were gathered and while the operation of getting them was less than half an hour considerable time was consumed in putting them into the proper compartments in the bottom of the boat in which they belonged. These compartments are constructed so they are swept by the water of the ocean as the steamer slips over it. It is this way the eggs are preserved and when they are delivered at the hatchery they are in the finest possible condition and are treated so scientifically that a large proportion of them will develop.

At this season of the year the steamer is picking up a large amount of cod eggs, but is not neglecting the lobster. Plenty of seed lobsters are being secured and are treated in the same manner as the cod eggs. Thousands of lob-

WHAT OVERWORK AND WORRY DID

Mrs. Adams of Machiasport Describes Her Condition and Tells How She Was Restored to Health.

The symptoms of general debility vary according to the cause but weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, sometimes black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, vertigo, wakefulness, caused by inability to stop thinking and unrefreshing sleep. The cause of the trouble may be some drain on the system or it may be mental or physical overwork, sometimes insufficient nutrition due to digestive disturbances.

The cure for this condition is a tonic treatment, such as described by Mrs. Marian M. Adams, of Machiasport, Maine. She says: "I suffered for a year with general debility which was brought on by overwork and worry. I could not digest solid food and lived mostly on milk. My stomach was worse when taking food. I couldn't sleep well at night. I tired out easily and it was about all I could do to get around. I should have been in bed but had to keep up to take care of my children. I had nervous headaches almost every day and when ever my head ached my stomach would be worse. I also had neuralgia in the head and neck for several months. I lost weight until I weighed only about 90 pounds."

"I was treated by a doctor for several months. He said I was run down and nervous, but he didn't help me any and my stomach was worse when taking his medicine. A cousin advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and when I had taken a few boxes I felt some better. I took several boxes in all and was cured. I knew the pills were helping me from the start for soon I could sleep better and was less nervous. My stomach has been in good shape since and I have been in good health. 'Diseases of the Blood' will be sent free upon request. If you are suffering from impoverished blood you cannot afford to wait another day before giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

sters have been taken to the hatchery, and when they are of a size large enough to allow them to combat the fish which would destroy them, they are also liberated.

In this way the supply of lobsters is continued and the business, which was at one time in danger of extinction, is now firmly established despite the fact that there were almost 15,000 lobsters received at the port of Portland alone one day recently. During last summer it was estimated that more than 100,000 were imprisoned in the various pounds and smacks along the coast.

The lobster men are also anxious to co-operate with the government and they have been brought to a realization of the fact that the work that the government is doing has been profitable to results which are, and will be, of great benefit to them.

Capt. George Greenleaf of the steamer Gannett has been long in the service and is well acquainted with the dangers of the salt water. Capt. Greenleaf in speaking of the cod says they are a savage fish and will attack anything. It is said that there are cases on record where large cod have engaged in battles with divers and it required hard work to drive them away. Fishermen have reported to him that the cod are fond of herring and that when an effort is made to secure the large cod good sized herring are thrown overboard.

A school of cod is always attracted by them and it is interesting to watch the fish. The cod will maneuver around the herring and will not attack them until the head of the herring is directly in front of it. When this occurs one single gulp and the herring disappears.

A short time ago a seed cod was received on board the Gannett which weighed 75 pounds. Not many pounds were received from it and the men were surprised. Finally it was decided to cut the fish open and the men were surprised, for inside was found a full sized cod which had not been damaged in the least. The only noticeable thing about it was the fact that the feathers at the throat were slightly matted up. It had not been chewed, but had been swallowed whole without apparent effort. It is believed that the bird was flying over the water and had descended for some reason or other so that he came within the reach of the big jaws of the cod. Shooting through the water he made a slight jump and succeeded in getting the quarry sought.

Captain Greenleaf also tells of taking a nine inch lobster from another cod which had been received on board the Gannett. Cases without number of finding smaller lobsters within cod are told. He says that the fish is one of the most peculiar found in the water, and is fully capable of taking care of itself, whatever the occurrence of affairs.

The work being done by the government is proving successful as evidenced by the large quantities of fish and lobsters that are being received. All the fishermen are bringing in good fares and during the early part of the winter over 100,000 lobsters were imprisoned in the various pounds maintained in one Maine city alone.

PLEASANT POINT

Miss Marie Messer of Union is visiting her aunt, Mrs. B. L. Stevens. John Stone and wife, visited relatives in Port Clyde recently.

P. J. Orne, Mrs. Josie Shuman and Mrs. Walter Davis were in Rockland recently.

Wilbur Morse launched his new boat from the shop Wednesday. The boat is 26 feet long and is equipped with a 5 horse power Essex engine.

Mrs. Riley Davis is seriously ill.

B. L. Stevens took a hog to the market in Rockland, Monday.

The death of Mrs. Mary Ann Davis, wife of Calvin Davis, of this place, which occurred at her home Friday May 21, came as a profound grief to numerous friends and neighbors.

where she has lived her life and grown so closely into the lives of all. She was born March 22, 1850, daughter of Capt. Richard Davis and Jane (Thompson) Davis, and was married Aug. 30, 1880 to Calvin Davis of Friendship. She leaves a husband and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Davis of Monhegan, and Miss Josie Davis, besides an aged father and mother, one brother, Capt. Riley Davis and two sisters, Mrs. Hiram Young and Mrs. Josie Shuman; and other near relatives, besides a host of friends. She was a kind and obliging neighbor, an affectionate mother, a true and loving wife, and the loss falls heavily upon the near and dear ones left behind.

Many gathered at her home the following Sunday when the last loving tribute was paid to her memory, and to listen to the sad words that must always be spoken over our dead and to the bereaved family. Friends tendered heartfelt sympathy for the irreparable loss which they are called to mourn. The floral offerings were beautiful, brought by relatives and friends and were eloquent of affection and symbols of love. Rev. Mr. Newcomb of Thomaston officiated. A quartet composed of Miss Helen Whitney of Friendship, soprano; Mrs. Grace Maloney, alto; Walter of Waldoboro, tenor; Ansel Orne, bass; sang the following selections: "When the Mists Have Rolled Away," "Some Day We'll Understand" and "We'll Never Say Good Bye to Heaven." The bearers were Ira Seavey, Alonzo Seavey, W. H. Trefothern and Wilbur Morse.

Mrs. Grace Maloney was in Thomaston recently.

Orren Creamer and Miss Evilo Stone were in Rockland, Thursday.

Miss Nora Wotton is caring for her sister, Mrs. Isaac Davis, who has returned from the Maine General Hospital in Portland, where she has been for treatment.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys must, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.
